

NEW FUNDING CYCLE OPEN – January 2019 (Round 12)The NIH Center for Accelerated Innovation at Cleveland Clinic (NCAI-CC)
Announces the Request for Applications (RFA) for next funding cycle

For Cleveland Clinic, Case Western Reserve University, The Ohio State University, Cincinnati Children's Hospital, the University of Cincinnati, the University of Michigan and Northwestern University

The RFA and related forms can be downloaded from www.ncai-cc.ccf.org Technology Development.

Funding is available for promising emerging technologies directed towards diagnosis, treatment or management of cardiovascular, pulmonary, blood or sleep-related disorders. We are seeking projects such as therapeutics (e.g. drugs, biologics), diagnostics, diagnostic systems, devices, tools, etc., in order to facilitate their translation to commercialized products that improve patient care and enhance health.

The NCAI-CC will provide funding and project assistance to advance the development of high priority early-stage technologies within the mission areas of the NHLBI (cardiovascular, lung, blood and sleep disorders).

Expert assistance will be provided in areas required for early technology development, including commercial opportunity assessment, intellectual property, clinical and regulatory, reimbursement, business, legal and project management.

In order to be considered, please submit a Letter of Intent by February 14, 2019, midnight Eastern Time.

Please see RFA for specific Letter of Intent contents, which in general include:

- Letter of Intent Cover Page form
- 2 page narrative including the following elements:
 - Project Definition.
 - Unmet Need, and Market Opportunity.
 - Project Background.
 - Project Plan and Milestones.
- References (not to exceed one page).
- Modified biosketch for lead investigator and up to two co-investigators. Please include education, employment history, current funding, and any history of commercialization activity, patents, etc. (not to exceed 4 pages each).

The full content of the Letter of Intent shall be submitted in a single combined unlocked PDF file.

The Letter of Intent may be submitted up to one week prior to due date at:

<http://www.ncai-cc.ccf.org/app/upload/?000&LOI>

Projects will be reviewed on the following criteria: Eligibility (fit for this funding opportunity, appropriate phase of development, feasibility), Clinical Need or Opportunity, Potential for Commercial Success, and Project Scope / Plan.
